Congresswoman Sykes is excited to announce the opening of the Congressional App Challenge (CAC), an app competition for students in middle and high school.

The CAC accepts computer programs (or apps) written in any programming language, for any platform (desktop/PC, web, mobile, raspberry Pi, etc.). The Challenge's submission portal is now open. Students can register and submit their applications until November 1st, 2021. The competition is open to all students who meet the eligibility requirements, regardless of coding experience. We strongly encourage students of all skill levels to participate and learn how to create their own apps. Winners will be selected by panels of judges drawn from the local community and honored by their Member of Congress. Their apps are eligible to be featured on display in the U.S. Capitol building, on house.gov and on the Congressional App Challenge website.

The CAC was created because Congress recognized that STEM and computer-based skills are essential for economic growth and innovation and that the U.S. has been falling behind on these fronts. By some estimates, the U.S. may be short by as many as 1 million programmers by 2021. These are high-paying, high-demand jobs. To maintain American competitiveness, it's crucial that the United States invests in our youth now and helps them acquire these valuable skills. The CAC encourages students to pursue those skills and recognizes them for their efforts.

PARTICIPATING COLLEGES

3 tips for making the most of your visit:

1. Review the list of attending colleges to narrow down where you want to spend your time.
2. Prepare a list of questions that will help you with your decision:
-What are the most popular majors?
-How much is tuition?
-Are scholarships available?
-What is the ratio of professors to students?
-What are the student housing options?
-What is student life like during the week? During the weekend?
3. Pre-print address labels that include your name, address, telephone number, high school, and graduation year to stick on request for information cards to eliminate having to re-write your name and address at every table you visit. If you include an email address, we recommend using your personal email address. High schools may disable your high school email address upon graduation.

Our institutions are hosting a couple of information sessions for students and their families in your area.

Each admission officer will share about their institution for a few minutes before responding to live and pre-submitted questions.

The presentations at these events will be identical, so only register for the one that best fits your schedule.
